

SCHOOL SONG

ANNO DOMINI Sixteen Six,
As the tale was told to me,
is a solemn date for us to fix
Deep in our memory,
Sir William Paston, he up and said
The Norfolk Lads, I am sore afraid,
Have over much Liberty
Come Hither, Reverend Michael Tylles,
And into their heads we'll hammer
Godly learning to guide their wills,
Arithmetic, writing and grammar."

Chorus –

This was the Paston School!
This is the Paston School!
And we shall see
That this shall be
For ever the Paston School!

Twere long to tell of all who came,
Of Tenison, Wharton, Hoste,
Their names are on the roll of fame,
And never shall be lost,
But stand and shout as the last we bring –
HORATIO NELSON - of him we sing,

For he is our proudest boast!
His eye was clear, his head was cool,
His glory is our star,
for what he learnt at the Paston School
He taught at Trafalgar!

Chorus

Such was the Paston School!
Such is the Paston School!
And we shall see
That such shall be
For ever the Paston School!

As those who went before us strove
To hold our banner high
In peaceful academic grove
- On fields where heroes die,
- Or in the common daily round,
- Unpraised, Unsung, but, haply, crowned
With immortality -
- So will we strive, so will we dare,
In all we say or do,
- From good to better, everywhere
- "De Mieux en Mieux Partout."

Chorus -

This was the Paston School!
This is the Paston School!
And we shall see
That this shall be
For ever, the Paston School!
